THE Democrats of Salt Lake are determined not to leave anything undone to render the visit of the distinguished orators to this region pleasant to them all. The people of the several committees are called to meet at the club rooms to-night and all should attend. Head the call in another column.

THERE was a large attendance at the tabernacle on Sunday, drawn undoubtedly by the expectation that President Joseph F. Smith would speak. A full account of his remarks appears in the SEMI-WEEKLY HERALD of tomorrow. The rendition of the Pilgrims' chorus by Stephens' choir Sunday was a magnificent piece of work.

IT was not Thompson, a baker, but T. E. Jones, a waiter in the Crocker coffee house, who was held up near the Valley house on Saturday night and slugged. His jaw is broken and his hands bruised where the thugs trampled on them. He has the rock and sling and the police have had one of the holdups, but no clue as to the whereabouts of the others.

FROM Franzensbad, in Austria, a distracted mother writes to THE HERALD that she has not heard from her son in four years, the last trace of him being a postal card he mailed in Salt Lake to Louis Stadler in Helena, Montana, on April 8, 1890. The young man's name is Joseph Hollinger, and he is by occupation a cook. Any information regarding him sent to this paper will tend to relieve his troubled parent.

A MEETING of kennel managers, the exhibitors and others interested, will be held at the Knutsford hotel, Wednesday, September 30. All entries must be made on said evening and fully specified, as the building of the kennels commences at once; therefore it is necessary that the superintendent should know how many kennels to build. Judges will be selected and other business transacted pertaining to the kennels.

SOME dirty fellow sent a dirty communication to THE HERALD open through the mails. THE HERALD gives the dirty cut the information, as it will doubtless be of interest to him, that the letter will be duly placed into the hands of the United States authorities, and if the sender discovered he will be prosecuted for sending obscene matter through the mail. We hope that he may have an early opportunity to ponder over his wickedness behind the bars. The scoundrel deserves it.

C. A. TEWKESBURY, the hardware merchant of this city, is at the Continental. He is an old Chicagoan and retains the bustling energy peculiar to the World's fair city. While acting with the Liberal party for the present, he is firmly of the belief that the time has come to divide on party lines, and says that when this does occur, Summit county will have a sure and safe Democratic majority. Being an Irishman himself, he is in position to know the temper of the large Irish population in that camp, and, as he expresses it, "it is as natural for an Irishman to be a Democrat as for a duck to take to water. He predicts that Park city will shortly have another great mine in the West, and of which John Daly holds a half interest and in which R. C. Chambers is largely interested. Mr. Tewkesbury's son, David A., is a student at the law department of the Michigan university, and is now in the law office of Arthur Brown.

POSTAL NOTES OF INTEREST.

Echoes From the Irrigation Congress—The People's Equitable Co-op Directors Elected—Telephone at the Fair Grounds.

Nels Empey had his cap off at the fair grounds yesterday and busied himself the greater part of the day directing the renovation of the place and the construction of new improvements.

The secretary is in receipt of a number of copies of McQuill's quickstep entitled "Nephew," which the bands will play on the streets on their grand march to the fair grounds.

Mr. McDaniels says people are coming in from Cache valley to attend the fair, and that Box Elder county, Weber county and Utah county are more thoroughly interested in the exhibition than ever before.

Many of the merchants who have donated articles for the bridal couples at the fair have placed the articles in their show window and placarded them. The secretary would like to have the others do so.

Last evening the Denhalter rifles were out practicing for the drill contest. Mr. Empey had a space cleared for the contest on the fair grounds and will see that it is kept in shape.

In addition to the regular premiums offered, the Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing society have offered the following special:

For the best display of poultry (given by John A. Hobbs & Co.) $10.

For the best display of flowering plants (given by H. W. Lawrence) $15.

For the best collection of foliage plants (also by Mr. Lawrence) $15.

For the best collection of fruits (also by Mr. Lawrence) $15. Second best $10.

For the best original story of not to exceed 5,000 words (given by Messrs. Wells and McDaniel) $25.

For the best display of Utah canned goods (given by W. S. Simpkins, esp.) $25.

For the best exhibit of bees in the most approved hives (given by Salt Lake City Railroad company) $35.

For the best general merchant's display (given by Major Erb, proprietor Walker Bros.) $50.

For the best display of home made brooms (given by Andrew C. Brixon, proprietor Clift house) $10.

Delegates John T. Caine offers $30 for the best essay, not to exceed 2,500 words, on the "Advantages of an Agricultural Education to Utah Boys," written by a native born citizen of Utah, the article to be published first in the Juvenile Instructor.

H. J. Grant offers a gold medal for the best specimen of penmanship by a boy or girl under sixteen years of age. The medal is to be awarded to the best specimen of penmanship by a boy or girl under sixteen years of age. The medal is to be awarded to the best specimen of penmanship by a boy or girl under sixteen years of age.

John A. Hobbs & Company offer $10, special premium, to be awarded hereafter.

Barratt Brothers offer a fancy rocker, value at $15, to be awarded hereafter.

H. Young & Company, the jewellers, and Fred Scarff, the druggist, offer special premiums for the objects for which they will be awarded to be decided on later.

C. B. Durst, the grocer, offers a chest of choice tea for the best display of Utah fruits.

Theodore J. Baker, at No. 46 West Second S. street, offers a pair of shoes for the best drawing made by a person under eighteen years of age.

O'Connor & Schaffer offer a fine glove and handkerchief case for the best display of fancy work by a girl under fifteen years of age.

Messrs. Groesbeck & Houghton offer a $35 dress pattern to the young lady who takes the prize as the prettiest girl at the fair.

After Wednesday all business with the secretary will be transacted at the fair building. There is a telephone at the building.

Postal Notes.

The afternoon registered pouch went up to Ogden for the first time yesterday, and hereafter two registered pouches will leave here daily. The Ogden folks have been instructed to put the pouches through without delay, and the change will be a great convenience to our business men.

An additional distributing desk is being put up at the postoffice, and in a day or two an extra man will go out with the distributing force. This arrangement will result in the morning mail being distributed about an hour earlier than formerly.

Four bids have already been received for carrying the mails to and from the depot. Thomas Orchard, chief of the railway mail service, came down from Ogden yesterday.

Assistant Postmaster Nash was out inspecting county offices yesterday.

Postmaster Benton has succeeded in making all the employees of the postoffice understand that they are public servants, and in consequence our office not only has a reputation for being excellently managed, from a business standpoint, but for courtesy and accommodation, as well.

Mr. Benton is never too busy to hear requests or statements, and his constant effort is to improve the service, which is now about as near perfection as can possibly be attained with the present force.

Effects of the Irrigation Congress.

From private sources it is learned that the late congress held in Salt Lake already is making an impression at government headquarters. It is understood that the agricultural department is much pleased with the outcome of the great meeting.

The people of the arid regions know, better than any others possibly could, what they wanted, met in conference, exchanged views, decided on a plan of making their wants known and then went home. The entire press is loud in its praise of the good sense, the nerve and wisdom shown, and the reward of such a course will be speedy and effective. We confidently expect all right and just demands to be met by the hands of the department of agriculture.

The People's Equitable Co-op.

The meeting of the stockholders of the People's Equitable Co-operative association was held last night at the office of the institution, Nos. 7 and 9 Main street, next to Zion's Savings bank, when the annual election of officers was held and all the old directors were re-elected, as follows:

Oliver Hodgson, S. J. Subbury, H. J. Foulger, Walter Lewis, Wendell R. Marks, Eli A. Folland, A. M. Musser, Thomas Miller, T. J. Everell, Philip Spry.

Andrew S. Gray, Mark Spencer and George M. Cannon. Joseph Anderson was re-elected secretary and treasurer and David R. Lyon, Nephi Y. Schofield and Joseph S. Darke, assessors.

The usual dividend on rebate checks was declared payable on demand and a very satisfactory showing was made of the business during the last six months. The institution is in a sound and healthy condition under the superintendency of Herbert J. Foulger.
